

Center for Terrorism Law

Monthly Activity Report

September 2012

1. The Center for Terrorism Law is preparing a one-day conference at St. Mary's University School of Law, San Antonio, Texas set for Saturday, November 10, 2012. The conference will discuss the legal and policy issues associated with the War on Terror. The conference is entitled: Legal & Policy Issues Regarding the War on Terror. The conference is free and open to the public, but registration is required. Additional information will follow soon on our website: www.stmarytx.edu/ctl.
2. Center for Terrorism Law research fellow, Fidel Esparza III attended a week long FBI conference (23-28 September 2012) entitled: Behavioral Informatics & Technology Enterprise Studies (BITES). The conference was held at the FBI Academy, Quantico, Virginia. BITES is a new working group established by the FBI's Behavioral Science Unit (BSU), at the FBI Academy. The Center for Terrorism Law is a member of the BITES consortium which is made up of senior fellows who include international/domestic academics, law enforcement officers, intelligence officers, and non-governmental organizations.
3. Professor Addicott's detailed law review article entitled: Rightly Dividing the Domestic Jihadist from the Enemy Combatant in the War Against Qa'eda – Why it Matters in Rendition & Targeted Killing, has been submitted for publication to the Case Western Reserve Law School, Cleveland, Ohio. Addicott participated in a roundtable debate on this topic at the Frederick K. Cox International Law Center War Crimes Research Symposium on 7 September 2012, in Cleveland, Ohio.
4. Professor Addicott is working on a law review article regarding the Rules of Engagement. This article should be completed in late 2012.
5. One of the most critical missions of the Center for Terrorism Law is to provide legal assistance to military and law enforcement personnel who are unjustly treated as a consequence of the performance of their official duties. Currently, the Center for Terrorism Law is providing legal help to a Coast Guard officer regarding discriminatory treatment by the Department of Homeland Security and the US Coast Guard.

6. The Center for Terrorism Law is a non-profit 501(c)(3). We operate entirely on private donations and public grants. All gifts are tax deductible. If you are interested in supporting the unique work conducted by the Center for Terrorism Law please contact jaddicott@stmarytx.edu.

7. The Center for Terrorism Law now has a Facebook page. Be sure to hit the “like” button to get updates from the Center on Facebook. Plus, the Center can now be followed on Twitter “@terrorismlaw” for real time updates posted by the Center for Terrorism Law research fellows! Finally, the research fellows from the Center for Terrorism law are powering an online journal and resource center featuring related articles, news, and research at <http://www.terrorismlawreport.org>.

8. Professor Addicott is available to present professional talks on a variety of topics associated with national security issues. In the past nine years, he has spoken over 600 times nationally and internationally, to a wide variety of groups. Please refer any requests for lectures/talks to jaddicott@stmarytx.edu.
